Dear Member-

Welcome to the Elgin Teachers Association. In an effort to better support all of our members--those with 30+ years experience and those just starting out--we are excited to provide you with this resource.

This resource includes what the ETA stands for, contact information for your Board of Directors, resources to assist you in the day-to-day challenges and the benefits you have as a member of the Elgin Teachers Association, Illinois Education Association, and National Education Association.

All of the information found in this resource, as well as more in-depth information about the ETA, can be found on our website at theeta.org.

We look forward to continuing to support all members in our joint effort to strengthen our classrooms, schools, and communities.

Thank you for choosing to be a member and part of the proud tradition of the ETA,

Barbara Bettis
ETA President

The Elgin Teachers Association

Why does the ETA Exist?
We exist to advance the cause of the teaching profession and the cause of public education - the cornerstone of our democracy.

What principles govern ETA's effectiveness as an organization?
- Fairness
- Integrity
- Dignity
- Equity
- Honesty
- Trust
- Justice

What does the ETA want to be?
- Principle-centered
- Effective
- Strong
- An Advocate
- An Organization Continually Learning
- A Model of our Ideals

What does "principle-centered" mean? To answer this question we rely on the work of Stephen R. Covey who defines principles as natural laws that have universal application. These laws are fundamental, timeless and self-evident. They pertain to human relationships and human organizations. Mr. Covey compares principles to a compass which has a true north that is objective and external. He believes that principles are as permanent as the true north on the compass and that organizations that are principle-centered are based on “true north” principles such as those listed above.

What does the ETA stand for?
- We believe in the empowerment of teachers in all decisions that affect the profession of teaching.
- We believe in a shared decision-making process that is consistent with the professional role of teachers.
- We believe that the economic and professional well-being of teachers is necessary to the existence of quality public schools.
- We believe that professionalism is enhanced as teachers work together to improve the level of their teaching skills.
- We believe that involvement in the decision-making process by all stakeholders is necessary for quality public schools.
- We believe effective public schools require adequate facilities, supplies, equipment, and support services.
- We believe in a safe teaching/learning environment for teachers and students.
- We believe small class sizes are essential to effective student learning.
- We believe in honoring and respecting human diversity and dignity.
- We believe that a strong emphasis on staff development is essential to deal with a rapidly changing society.
- We believe that staff development needs of teachers are best identified and addressed by teachers.
- We believe that an effective school district is an organization continually learning that draws from the many and varied talents of its teachers.
- We believe that quality education depends both on a positive student-educator relationship and pedagogical or subject-matter skills.
- We believe that the ETA must represent the highest aspirations of its members and is committed to an organization based upon member involvement.
- We believe that the ETA must be an organization that models teamwork and open communications.
- We believe in a strong collective bargaining agreement.
- We believe that the ETA has a proud history and tradition which will enhance our future.

Constructing “Progressive Unionism” Out of Three Frames

While many believe that the main role of a teacher’s union is to bargain for teacher pay, there is far more to a functioning union than controlling pay. As society blames educators for failing scores and poor student performance, a Union must embrace Professional and Social Justice Unionism in order to truly move students, staff, and the community forward.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Industrial Unionism “Collective power to meet bread and butter needs and ensure fairness from management”</th>
<th>Professional Unionism “Control of the profession to ensure quality”</th>
<th>Social Justice Unionism “Equity for our students through active engagement in the community”</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Emphasizes separation of managerial and teaching work, job design and execution. “Boards make policy, managers manage, teachers teach.”</td>
<td>Emphasises collective aspect of education work; blurs lines between, teaching and management; lead teachers, joint committees “All of us are smarter than any of us.”</td>
<td>Creates alliances with parents and the community to organize for social justice that will help all children succeed</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Usually approaches labor-management relations as adversarial rather than collaborative. Represents teachers in defense and protection of their rights as workers; responds to teacher discontent.</td>
<td>Emphasises the interdependence of workers and managers - “If you don’t look good, we don’t look good.”</td>
<td>Values parents and community activists as partners in school decision-making.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Values collective action (as power) in response to labor-management conflict; militant organizing as a pressure tactic.</td>
<td>Values labor-management collaboration and partnership when useful in improving education and the profession in the public interest.</td>
<td>Takes a tactical view of labor-management cooperation based on circumstances</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Win/lose, distributive bargaining</td>
<td>Interest-based bargaining, broad scope bargaining and other contracts; agreements outside the contract.</td>
<td>Reaches out to the community for support for improving the quality of teaching</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Limited scope bargaining, usually focused on salary, hours, and fair procedures</td>
<td>Union focused on professional development and quality of teaching/learning</td>
<td>Focuses on race and class challenges and the development of cultural competence and critical pedagogy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Works to improve the conditions of teaching and learning (Class size, adequate text books and supplies, hours, etc)</td>
<td>Emphasizes the protection and improvement of teaching, and quality control in the profession.</td>
<td>Asserts that all students can learn if adequate resources are available: school district funding as an equity issue.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Works to improve wages, benefits and retirement for all its members and negotiates equal treatment for all members</td>
<td>Empowers teachers to be instructional leaders and innovators and encourages teacher leaders to be given more responsibilities and more pay.</td>
<td>Encourages teachers to make curriculum relevant to students’ lives; the union involves its members in broad social change</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Emphasizes the protection of teachers - “rights-based” approach to resolving conflicts (grievances are an entitlement)</td>
<td>Argues that quality teaching is the critical factor in closing the achievement and that it is possible to define and measure quality teaching.</td>
<td>Argues for teacher empowerment in schools and districts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Views the teacher contract as a way to institutionalize all changes</td>
<td>Is willing to institutionalize change through the contract as well as exploring other forms</td>
<td>Change can only be institutionalized and sustained by organizing the rank and file and the community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Principals &amp; middle management decide when teachers have input into decisions.</td>
<td>Expands teacher decision making and instructional leadership at school and district level</td>
<td>Democratic input by all stakeholders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Priority has protected against employer favoritism and must be kept at all cost</td>
<td>Willingness to look at expanded definitions of seniority to balance the needs of the individual and the educational enterprise.</td>
<td>No respect for seniority when it protects teachers who are not contributing to student achievement.</td>

ETA Member Concern Flow Chart

Member concern and initial conversation with Administrator has occurred.

- No violation, contractual or otherwise. Concern Resolved.
- Meet with Building Representative to discuss the concern.

Violation of the Contract is believed to have occurred.

Building Representative and Member meet with Administrator to have a discussion about the Contract violation.

- Contract concern resolved. Continue to monitor.
- Meeting does not resolve contract violation. Contact Section Director to begin writing a grievance.

Level 1 grievance meeting occurs. Resolution is reached and concern is resolved. Continue to monitor. Report outcome to Section Director.

Non-Contractual Violation. Resolution still needed.

Building Representative and Member meet with Administrator to have a discussion about the concern.

- Meeting does not resolve the concern. Contact Section Director to determine next steps.
- Section Director stays in contact with Member and Building Representative to continue to problem solve and monitor the situation.

Level 1 grievance meeting occurs. Resolution is not reached. Contact Section Director to advise next steps.

Concern is taken to Monthly Contract Meeting to reach a resolution.

- Non-Contract concern resolved. Continue to monitor.
Committee Member Responsibilities

Committee Member Attendance Expectations
- Attend all committee meetings
  - If not able to attend a meeting due to emergency, committee determines committee member’s responsibilities for the meeting missed
- Arrive on time and remain for the duration of each meeting
- To help all members uphold these expectations, meeting dates will be set and communicated prior to, or during, the first meeting

Committee Member Participation Expectations
- Follow all norms set by committee
- Contribute to committee purpose
- Provide a voice for the group or members they are elected/appointed to represent
- Prepare ahead of time for each meeting
  - This may include, but is not limited to: read previous meeting minutes, submit agenda items, review agenda, review resources, seek input from members, etc.
- Participate, actively, during each meeting
  - This may include, but is not limited to: actively listening, taking notes, voting in decision making, staying on topic, etc.
- Follow up after each meeting
  - This may include, but is not limited to: following through on next steps as decided by the committee, communicating information with members represented, etc.

Committee Member Communication Expectations
- Seek input and share information with represented groups/members
- Communicate with committee chair
  - This may include, but is not limited to: creating agenda items, reporting emergency absences, sharing concerns, questions, solutions, and additional information related to committee purpose or work, etc.

The above expectations should be met by all committee members. Members that do not meet these expectations may be subject to removal from the committee.
How will you get involved?
One of the most powerful aspects of any organization is the voice of the members. There are a number of ways for you to get involved and have your voice heard.
